Elko High School Band Course Requirements, Performance Agreement and Grading Policy 2008-2009 School Year

The Elko High School Band and Flag Team (referred to hereafter as “Elko High School Band” or “Band”) is an academic co-curricular activity. This means that the events and performances listed on the “Calendar of Events” (listed on the website: <http://www.prideofnevada.com>) are considered part of the class and therefore part of the grade evaluation. Students are expected to participate in all performances listed on the calendar of events. All color guard members must participate through the final marching performance and all band and/or jazz band members must participate through the academic year. Students and parents acknowledge that they are subject to all band rules in the band handbook (listed on the website: <http://www.prideofnevada.com>) and all school district rules and eligibility requirements.

Grading Policy: The Elko High School Band uses all members for performances listed on the “Calendar of Events” and therefore relies on each student to attend and participate. Excused absences for performances are serious illness or death in the family. Verification of serious illness or death in the family must be verified in writing to the director within twenty-four hours. Absences from performances that are unverified from parent or guardian after twenty-four hours will result in a two-letter drop in the semester grade for the course. The band director reserves the right to make an evaluation of chronic absenteeism and remove a student from a performance or the band, if needed. The practice schedule for marching band listed in the “Calendar of Events” is considered regular scheduled instructional time, and will be evaluated in accordance with Elko County School District attendance policies for the 2008/2009 school year. Absences from marching band practices must be verified with the band director. Any deviation from the scheduled practices or performances must be arranged with the director in advance and memorialized in writing prior to the scheduled activity.

THE PRIDE OF NEVADA!

Dear Member of the “Band of Indians”:

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you as a member of the Elko High School “Band of Indians.” We are at the beginning of a new year, one that will present us with many great experiences.

Our commitment must always be to excellence. I have no doubt that we can continue to have one of the finest high school bands in the West (marching and concert).

To have the kind of Band that we all want to have presents a serious challenge. We must make positive strides to establish and maintain great attitudes and work habits. We must never settle for mediocrity.

Because of the nature of the organization, Band students and their parents must be willing accept the ideals, principles, and rules of the organization and all of us must be willing to sacrifice.

In as much as Band members are constantly on display, each must always be aware of the importance of exemplary behavior. You should remember that you represent the “Band of Indians”, Elko High School, the Elko community, and the State of Nevada whenever you perform or appear publicly. Any misconduct at any time casts a direct reflection on all those you represent and may well undo the good work of hundreds of loyal alumni, students, and townspeople.

A good Band is built on discipline – discipline is order – with orderliness comes the attainment of things worthwhile.

“EFFORT = RESULTS”

Yours in Music,
Walt Lovell
Director of Bands

PERFORMANCE IS WHAT WE ARE ALL ABOUT!

IT IS ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL THAT ALL MEMBERS ATTEND ALL REHEARSALS AND ALL PERFORMANCES OF THE “BAND OF INDIANS.”

WE ARE ONLY AS GOOD AS OUR LAST PERFORMANCE. THEREFORE, WE MUST ONLY CONCERN OURSELVES WITH BEING BETTER THAN WE WERE THE LAST TIME WE PERFORMED. THE ONLY GROUP WE MUST BEAT – IS US!

REQUIRED ATTENDANCE

The Elko High School Band in its many forms (Marching Band, Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band, Pep Band, etc.) performs many times each year, usually beginning before the first day of school. Any student who becomes involved should be aware that they are required to be at every rehearsal and performance!

Students who participate in other school activities are required to be at all band functions unless a direct conflict results from the scheduling of athletic contests or other school activities at the same time as band performances. Performances take precedence over practice in all cases. The band director shall be informed not less than two weeks in advance of a student's decision to be involved in a game or school activity which will facilitate his/her missing a band function. Failure to comply will result in the student's grade being lowered.

If you volunteer for Pep Band, you are required to perform whenever the Pep Band performs.

Band rehearsals and performances are NOT optional!

Band members must attend the entire performance unless approved by the Director.

Remember: there are no excused absences for performances.

You are expected to be on time (on time is early) and to participate until the game/performance is over and the band's post-game/post performance activities are complete.

After games, all uniforms must be properly hung and returned to the uniform room.

All band-owned equipment must be properly cleaned and stored.

Uniform Care

If your uniform needs cleaning, give it to the Uniform Manager. Uniforms will be taken to a professional cleaner periodically and as needed.

All necessary alterations will be handled by the Uniform Manager. Do not attempt to alter your uniform yourself.

The uniform must be hung up on the provided hanger when not in use. Be sure the creases of the pants are folded correctly. Place the uniform inside the uniform bag and hang it neatly before returning it to the uniform room.

Plumes should be lightly fluffed before being worn. After being used, they should immediately be stored in their cardboard tubes inside the plume box. Avoid excessive handling, as the feathers will become dirty from oils on your hands.

Avoid exposure of the plume to water. If the plume gets wet, allow it to dry in a clean area before returning it to the plume box.

Important Keys for Academic Success

1. Attend class: Go to class! It cannot be emphasized enough that there is a direct correlation between classroom attendance and academic success. Tests are most often based on the material covered in class.

Accordingly, attend your classes-- not just regularly, but every time one of your classes meets. You should inform your teacher if illness requires you to miss a class. If you are going to be away from campus for a performance, alert your instructors ahead of time. Get your assignments in advance, if possible, and determine when the work is due. Let your instructor know when you are ill. Your class attendance may be one criteria used by your professor when assigning final grades.

2. Go to class prepared: You should have all reading and written assignments completed on time. If you go to class unprepared, it is often difficult to understand the material presented in class. Also, your instructor may tag you as a student with a poor attitude, which may influence your grade.

3. Know your instructor: Introduce yourself to your instructor; if you have any questions relative to your course, meet with your instructor. Your teacher is interested in your performance in the classroom and will generally be happy to discuss material related to your course.

4. Make a good impression: Go to class on time. Entering class late causes a disruption. Do not read newspapers; listen to radios, etc., in class. Be respectful: remember "Sir," "Ma'am," "thank you," and "please."

5. Don't let little problems become big.

6. Time Management: Plan out what must be accomplished in one semester. On a calendar, list the days when quizzes, essays, and special projects are due. Also, list your performance days, etc., when you will not be able to follow your usual study routine. Find the conflicts. Is there a week when tests and projects are due? Plans ahead, don't leave the studying until that week. Complete special projects in advance during light periods. It often helps to make a weekly schedule. List your classes, practices, meetings, study time, rest time, etc. Plan to study at approximately the same time of day, if possible. By having a schedule, you can easily see what time is available for studying and what assignments must be completed in the time available.

7. Planning study time: Commit to a regular study time every day. Let this time become part of your daily routine. Join helpful study groups. If you participate in group study sessions, don't let them turn into "bull sessions."

8. Get help if you need it: Elko High School provides free tutoring and academic advising, as well as resources for finding personal tutors. Study groups often improve academic performance. Usually, teachers are happy to help their students overcome problems with the material.

Basic Habits of a Winner

Winners develop the habits of doing things that losers don't like to do.

- Don't criticize, condemn, or complain. Think of ways to improve the situation. The big rewards are paid for finding solutions, not difficulties.
- Show real, honest, and heartfelt appreciation – remember that a person's greatest emotional need is to feel appreciated.
- Think positive thoughts about others and yourself.
- Give before you get. Always give others a reason to agree with you before asking something of them.
- Smile often. It generates enthusiasm, friendliness, and good will.
- Remember names. A person's name is the sweetest, most important sound they hear, and it instantly captures his or her attention each time it is used.
- Be an effective communicator by listening. Encourage others to talk about themselves by asking questions – when, where, who, what, how and why.
- Think, act, and look happy and successful, and you will begin to think, feel, and be happy and successful.
- Don't be part of "worry" conversations or participate in gossip sessions.
- Always greet others with a positive, cheerful statement – not "How are you?"
- Respond to another's "How are you?" with an enthusiastic, sincere "Terrific!"
- Look for and expect good things to happen to you!
